WELCOME

“Education is the art of helping young people to completeness,” wrote Blessed Basil Moreau, founder of the Congregation of Holy Cross, in his treatise Christian Education. As we focus on our value of Zeal this year, we measure ourselves against this standard: how are we helping young people to completeness? That is a multi-faceted question, which challenges us to consider how we educate both the heart and the mind. In the tradition of the Brothers of Holy Cross, we seek to impart information that will positively contribute to the formation of students’ values and behaviors, encouraging students to become agents of transformation in the world.

This has been the heart of our mission and purpose since our founding in 1910, and to that end, this past year, we:

- Successfully launched the Dual-Credit program in collaboration with Benedictine University, serving 40 students in the first year alone.
- Sent two students to the 2019 NFTE National Youth Entrepreneurship Challenge in New York City this fall, who won first place and runner-up out of 20,000 NFTE students nationwide, winning $17,000 and $9,000 respectively for their business ideas.
- Distributed $230,000 in the new Illinois Tax Credit Scholarships, enabling 28 students to attend Holy Trinity High School.
- Developed a relationship with Northwestern University Medical Center, Kidney Division, that resulted in five paid student summer internships, a commitment to partner with us in expanding our science curriculum and additional support for our students’ ACT preparation.

We take a moment to remember our former board chair Ray Milnes, who embodied this value of zeal and passed away on March 22, 2019. Ray was a kind and caring man. He made everyone at Holy Trinity feel like they were critical to our success and appreciated for their special talents. In turn, we understood how great his leadership was, his authenticity, and how fortunate we were to have him in our lives and our school. In a school that prides itself on instilling each student with our Holy Cross values of integrity, discipline, family, excellence and zeal, Ray was the perfect leader, exemplifying those same virtues in everything he did: corporate leader, loving husband and father, coach, and Board Chair. Ray has set a very high bar in how we should all treat one another.

In reviewing this annual report, please know that your dedication to our mission has inspired us to continually demand more from ourselves and our students, to be leaders in our educational landscape and the city of Chicago.

EDUCATING THE MIND

Over the past five years, educators at Holy Trinity have increased our standards of academic excellence to ensure every student is prepared for success after high school. We have expanded our Advanced Placement (AP) program from just one course in 2014 to seven classes across our departments. Building on that success, we launched a Dual-Credit program in partnership with Benedictine University in 2018-2019. Six courses are offered, four of which are taught by Holy Trinity faculty who qualify as adjunct professors. Students can transfer those credits to any other university or college in Illinois; many schools outside the state also accept them. Two graduates of the Class of 2019 had such a great experience, they matriculated to Benedictine as full-time college students.

Beyond the classroom, Holy Trinity is also expanding summer opportunities for our students, which bolster their college applications while preparing scholars for their futures. New this year, Holy Trinity partnered with the Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine's Nephrology Department for their inaugural GoKidney Sci-High Summer Program. The program welcomed five highly-motivated students exclusively from Holy Trinity to an eight-week immersive program with hands-on biomedical research under the guidance of mentors, building the leadership, technical, and analytical skills to achieve success in science and kidney research.

“Holy Trinity’s STEM classes have, among other things, certainly strengthened my curious nature. Whether I was writing and executing 60 steps of my chemistry lab procedure or modeling momentum in physics, Holy Trinity’s emphasis on the connection between textbook understanding and real-world application is one that fueled my curiosity and translated across very well during my Northwestern internship. Holy Trinity helped instill the inquisitive mindset of a scientist in me, preparing me to effectively take on the challenges around me while also enjoying it as a learning experience,” says Sci-High participant Gabriel Sheikh '20 (pictured top right).

FORMING THE HEART

Part of the richness of a Holy Trinity education is the diversity of opportunities and activities available to students both before and after school. We encourage every student to get involved in one or more of our 12 teams and 32 clubs to deepen natural talents or explore new ones.

Holy Trinity's wide array of clubs provides a great way for students to become an active member of the broader school community, make new friends, and learn valuable leadership skills. Students can pursue interests in the fine arts, leadership, world cultures, journalism, and fitness. Several of the clubs, including Robotics, Math, and Debate, allow students to compete against other schools. Students are also empowered to form their own clubs, leading to recent additions including the International and Badminton Clubs.

The Tigers athletic program strives to develop confident, enthusiastic, and disciplined athletes, with an emphasis on teamwork and sportsmanship. Athletics play an important role in the total educational experience offered at Holy Trinity, helping each student to realize the full range of his or her talents and abilities. With the hiring of new Athletic Director Daniel DeBonnet and several new coaches, the Tigers are strengthening all of our teams.

"The teams and clubs I've gotten involved with have helped me to build bonds with other people, and to find myself and where I fit in. I've learned I can vibe easily with each person individually and work as a team to come together, which I think is unique because we are a small school. Our teachers and coaches are showing us how to apply our values through these experiences, and those values help us to do our best. I'm building skills through these activities that I'll use for the rest of my life, in future interviews and jobs," says Lizette Gallegos '21. "I'm making great memories in the process."

TRANSFORMING THE WORLD

Our mission is to prepare students to lead lives of leadership and service. To be agents of change, working for justice in their communities. How do you evaluate the success of such a bold mission? Through alumni like Maurice Tiner '13.

As a Posse Scholar, Maurice received his B.A. in Africana studies from Connecticut College in 2017, when he also received the Anna Lord Strauss Medal, the highest service award given to a graduating student. He obtained his Master of Arts in Religion with a concentration in Black Religion and the African Diaspora from Yale Divinity School in 2019. Now, Maurice is an 8th grade Social Justice teacher at KIPP BOLD Academy in Newark, NJ and minister in his church.

"Holy Trinity is providing an educational experience that is holistically preparing students for life after school, whether that be college or a career. The academic rigor was definitely something that prepared me for college and helped me to develop a work ethic that is imperative for students. Holy Trinity was foundational in me branching out to be a student leader, to express my creativity, my innovative ways of thinking—something I carried into my college experience. Holy Trinity helped me to believe that the possibilities are truly endless as long as you have the will and drive—our Holy Cross value of discipline. Whatever I could put my mind to, the resources were there to help support my dreams come true. I really thank Holy Trinity for setting a standard of excellence for all the schools I attended afterward. Thankfully, Connecticut College and Yale met those standards."
